Directions

Cook the rinsed smoked belly gently (overnight in a combi oven or in the classic way), debone it completely, including the gristle, and cut it into cubes or slices.

Cook the pasta in salted water, drain and do not rinse, add a little salt, pepper with crushed pepper, add finely grated mace, chopped pork belly and put this mixture into pre-greased 60 mm high enameled GNs and sprinkled with toasted breadcrumbs.

Pour over the eggs, which we have beaten in milk and salted.

Bake in a convection oven until golden.
